Margaret Harmon : A Field Guide to North American Birders before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised A Field Guide to North American Birders:

Why watch a bunch of silly birds when you can watch a bunch of silly birdwatchers? That's the basis of this hilarious parody by Margaret Harmon. Packaged like an actual field guide, it's a bird's eye view of the people who watch the birds, featuring:

- Full-color illustrations of each birder
- The distinguishing characteristics, voice, range, and habitat of 39 "species" of birders, including: the Great Gracious Heron, Steadfast Quail, Ruby-Lipped Hummingbird, Opinionated Jay, Saturday Morning Kinglet, Scope-Weaseling Warbler
- A diagram of the birder body-in all it's full-feathered glory
- Tips on birder-watching-and how to attract them to your own back yard
- Specialized information on how to prevent birder-watching injuries
- The American Birder-Watching Society Code of Ethics
- And more
