David Sollis : All Said Done before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised All Said Done:

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. All Said and DoneBy Gail WhiteA very funny collection of English and American poets. If you need an additional incentive to buy 100 pages of laugh-out-loud poetry, you will also be heping a good cause: The National Autistic Society.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Pure satisfaction for lovers of wit and humor!By David HedgesHere you'll find light verse at its funniest, penned by some of the most unserious poets in the English-speaking world!

This unique anthology contains a smorgsbord of the best in light verse and will have you laughing out loud, or at the very least, raise a wry smile. Throughout the book there are also some more poignant and thought provoking pieces. The poems have been chosen to provide a snapshot of modern life and cover topics we're all familiar with (e.g. Relationships, Communication and Empathy). It is no coincidence that these themes encompass some of the main areas of difficulty for autistic individuals. Contributions from: Alanna Blake, Andy White, Anna Evans, Attila The Stockbroker, Bill Greenwell, Brendan Beary, Catherine Chandler, Charles Ghigna, D A Prince, David Axton, David Hedges, Dave Spicer, Dean Parkin, Diane Zoller-Ciatto, Donna Williams, Gillian Ewing, Helena Nelson, Joanne Neill, John Whitworth, Julie Kane, Kate Gladstone, Laura Ledbetter, Mae Scanlan, Martin Parker, Matty Angel, Melinda Smith, Murray Lachlan Young, Nicole Nicholson, Patrick Winstanley, Peter Goulding, Rick Lupert, Scott Emmons, Steve Morris, Susan McLean, Wendy Cope Wendy Lawson Proceeds from sales of this book will help support The National Autistic Society.
