2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. This book gave me pantsfeelingsBy KristinThis is a very funny book that teens of all ages will enjoy. The monologues and notes are very clever. You will LOL.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. It's yellow. 5 stars.By LiloWhy haven't you bought this book yet? You're reading the reviews hoping they'll tell you exactly what you already know. This book is amazing and any person with any theatre experience with a sense of humor will enjoy.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. How will your friends know you're smart if you don't have a few books laying aroundBy CustomerHow will your friends know you're smart if you don't have a few books laying around? Hands down a must own. If you don't own this book you're not feeling ALL the feelings.

Young actors: Give the boot to Neil Labute. Tell Christopher Durang hes no thang. This ground-breaking book of Grade-A meaty monologues is designed to help teen-aged actorians express their feelings through The Magic of The Theatre. Flip to any page and start reading aloud. Youll be getting attention in no time!

"This book will make you the hit of your high school thespian conference, impressing tech-theatre girls wearing faerie wings and drama teachers with uncontrollable rage issues alike!" DC Pierson, author of Crap Kingdom "Mayor" in Bye Bye Birdie, Mountain Pointe Theatre Company '02There are two things I cant stand: humor books, and one person shows. That said, dibs on the one person show of this humor book. I CALLED DIBS!" Laura Silverman, Bob's Burgers"As both an actor and an acting teacher, I alone understand the importance of listening solely to myself while simultaneously demanding others listen only to me. This book is a reminder that feelings are weapons, and weapons, as I imagine the famous educator Maria Montessori would have said, 'exist only as a means to slay your audience with a fresh soliloquy.' Well done Levine!"Dr. Matt Gourley P.Y.T., Drunk History "If this book had existed when I was starting out, God knows where I would have ended up."James Urbaniak, The Venture Bros Difficult People About the AuthorMike Levine is a comedy writer who contributes to The Onion, Heeb magazine, The Devastator and McSweeney's.
