Sam Elcot : Ancient Tales from the Eternal East before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Ancient Tales from the Eternal East:

This anthology of 111 short and simple stories is an original creation by this author, specially selected from a few thousand such tales written during the last half a century. The stories included here are modeled on similar ancient tales told during the last two millennia or more. Drawn from all the cultures to which humanity is heir to, like the Arabian, Buddhist, Chinese, Germanic, Hellenic, Indian, Jewish, Persian, Roman, Sufi, Taoist, Turkish etc, they demonstrate the essential unity of mankind and symbolize the oneness of values cherished by all civilizations since time immemorial.

About the AuthorSam Elcot born in the south-western Indian state of Kerala and educated in Eng.Litt., law, philosophy, journalism and management, has lived in various Indian cities, mostly in capital Delhi and in Europe. Retired as a senior official of the Government of India and now in his sixties, Sam has authored about a dozen books in English and in his mother-tongue Malayalam. As a free-lance journalist for the last 40 years, he has also published hundreds of articles on various issues in dozens of publications in both the above languages.
