Would make a great gift for the literature-loving person in your life.1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. My Couplet Runneth OverBy M. SouthwellMy Couplet

Runneth Over is a witty, intelligent, easy to read, charming book. If ever I need to cheer myself up I read it . The couplets can be read again and again they are so entertaining and witty. It's quotable too! I give it as a cheery present.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. My couplet runners overBy A. ToI had the privilege to read these before they were published. What an honor. So witty, clever and fun. Five stars for Barbara Alpern.

A collection of mischievous two-liners reminiscent of the sly wit of Ogden Nash and Dorothy Parker. Barbara Parsonnet Alpern, a 92-year-old self-described pain-in-the ass unwilling to live without humor, finds the funny side of aging, dieting, history and politics. In "Victoria's Secret" she writes: My fashion savvy never ends, my lingerie is by Depends.

About the AuthorBarbara Parsonnet Alpern is a 92-year-old humorist whose poems and limericks have been published in The New York Times and New York Magazine. She is the author of numerous musical parodies for community theaters and declined the invitation to write the lyrics for a hit Broadway show because she was "too busy." Her education at Parsons School of Design led her into successful careers as a fashion illustrator at Bergdorf Goodman, sculptor, interior designer and antique dealer. She lives in West Orange, New Jersey.
