deception. Here is a story of quite compassion, love, and family. With simple direct tone and nostalgic portraits, Mr. Steve captures elements of life sadly long overlooked. Seldom have we glimpsed the soul of a person so completely, viewed through the loving eyes of those closet to her. Easily flowing from one topic to another we envision the changing life thoughts of a wonderfully innocent woman unaffected by the cynicism of life. Each page reveals another element to the complex yet unassuming nature of Julia. You will smile and nod and laugh and think as you listen to Julia speak. And when you close the cover you will thank yourself for taking the journey through her eyes. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Not A Blabbermouth By Kevin Feighery A delightful read of a delightful person. Unlike Ralph Kramden's mother-in-law, this person was NOT a blabbermouth and had a great relationship with her son-in-law. Italian or not, her attitude and wit appeals to everyone. A very enjoyable read with many insights and lots of laughs. 2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Heart- warming and engaging By Joe D. If you want to bring a smile to your face, read this book. Before you put it down, you'll feel like you know Julia and you'll have a sense of the special relationship she, her daughter and son-in-law shared. My favorite quote: (Upon meeting an acquaintance, Julia remarks --) "Hi, how are you? You look so nice and fat!" Enjoy the read.

Fact: Many a mother-in-law is either disliked or finds herself the butt of jokes. This was a mother-in-law to be loved and admired. Question: What type of woman would inspire her son-in-law to accumulate 35 years worth of quotes? Answer: The inspiration was Julia's off-the-wall humor. My Favorite Italian Mother-In-Law is a collection of more than 300 zany quotes, arranged by subject matter, such as: ¿ I never saw lightning so loud before. ¿ I don't have to change my socks because I was in the house all day yesterday and I hardly moved. ¿ I just wrote a letter to a my cousin Margaret in Florida. I'm not sure if she's dead or alive. ¿ My neighbor is so good at taking care of me, he shovels my sidewalk before it snows.

About the Author Steve Bergman's fascination with quotations began in his teenage years and he accumulated a vast collection of quotes from various sources such as friends, family and business associates. He was born and raised in New York City, is currently employed in the financial services industry and resides on Long Island.
