

(Read free ebook) Oh No She Didn't: The Top 100 Style Mistakes Women Make and How to Avoid Them

Oh No She Didn't: The Top 100 Style Mistakes Women Make and How to Avoid Them

Clinton Kelly

Download PDF | ePub | DOC | audiobook | ebooks*

DOWNLOAD

+

READ ONLINE

#591532 in Books 2010-10-12 2010-10-12Original language:EnglishPDF # 1 9.00 x .70 x 6.00l, 1.16 #File Name: 1439163162208 pages | File size: 37.Mb

Clinton Kelly : Oh No She Didn't: The Top 100 Style Mistakes Women Make and How to Avoid Them before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Oh No She Didn't: The Top 100 Style Mistakes Women Make and How to Avoid Them:

5 of 5 people found the following review helpful. LAUGH OUT LOUD funny. CreativeBy Belle of the BallLAUGH OUT LOUD funny. Creative, clever, and witty, witty, witty. This (gorgeous, married to another handsome man) guy doesn't miss any detail on clothing, men or women. He clearly has a scholar's view of fabric and fashion. I love him on TV and I love his writing style. I feel like he is my best bud, talking to me while helping me, lovingly, with humor. This was what I needed: an (educated) male perspective on what I wear that my husband is too chickenshit to say! Thanks Clinton, my love for your presence on this planet is immeasurable! Bless you to the bottom of my bell bottom, ass-enhancing pants! Keep up the information for the ladies and never stop caring about us. LOVE YOU! 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Beverages DownBy KjG Shoreline Washington This is full of good sense mixed with fashion savvy and an unexpected and brilliant sense of humor. I love the idea of using a tailor - something that had never occurred to me before, except in the matter of fixing a hem, which I usually do myself. Having someone who can see the whole you instead of your favorite parts is so much better. I really liked the rule of fit your largest part and have the tailor harmonize the rest so you have the look you wanted but couldn't get without the clever tailor. The only difficult part of this book is forgiving him for (only once) using the word "fierce." 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. For those who never saw WNTW By pb If you love WNTW, you may want to buy this book for the pleasing snarkiness of CK's remarks and just to bask in the knowing winks he gives to you, his fan. If you seriously wonder about your possible fashion faux pas, here and there as you leave the house, BUY THIS BOOK. Seriously.

How NOT to dress. In Oh No She Didn't, Clinton points out the hundreds of fashion mistakes women most commonly make and shows you how to fix them. Muffin tops. Scrunchies. Suntan hose. Slut shoes. Visible panty line. Who hasn't had the unfortunate experience of witnessing—or (gasp!) actually wearing—one of these fashion disasters? The atrocities Clinton Kelly has seen—it's a surprise he hasn't gouged out his own eyes. Mom jeans? Fancy fingernails? Tracksuits? In the same straight-talking style that has made TLC's What Not to Wear a smash hit for eight seasons, the cheeky media personality and author of Freakin' Fabulous shows women how to outfit themselves with confidence and style as he pokes fun at fashion "don'ts." From the most obvious faux pas (Texas tuxedos) to borderline offenses (peekaboo boobies), Clinton offers detailed and entertaining critiques of our top one hundred sartorial slip-ups. He turns his keen eye to wardrobe, color, cut, cleanliness, hairstyle, accessories, and even posture. And because he loves you, he presents easy alternatives and practical suggestions for creating fabulous outfits that will make you forget you ever wore socks with clogs. Clinton also explains how to use trends to your advantage at any age, from deciding which ones work for you to understanding how to wear them to keep your look relevant. Because if you're not comfortable in the sequined mini, everyone around you will know it. A delightful mix of hilarious dish and expert fashion advice, Oh No She Didn't will turn anyone from fashion victim to fashionista in no time.

About the Author Clinton Kelly is best known as Emmy-award-winning moderator of The Chew on ABC, as well as cohost of the wildly popular makeover show, What Not to Wear. Originally from Port Jefferson Station, New York, Clinton now resides with his husband, Damon, and dog, Mary, in Manhattan and Connecticut. Excerpt. © Reprinted by permission. All rights reserved. INTRODUCTION THE ATROCITIES I'VE SEEN I mean, seriously, sometimes I'm surprised I haven't already gouged out my own eyes. Truth be told, I did come pretty damn close once. I was in Pittsburgh, at the airport, or maybe it was Cincinnati. Doesn't matter, really. There I was, just minding my own business, reading the newspaper and waiting for my flight to board, when a couple of women approached me. "Are you Clinton?" one of them asked. This question always kind of bugs me. You know it's me. Just say hello and go back to your quadruple mocha latte. "Yep," I replied, and looked up to see two of the most horrific outfits imaginable. Both women—both—were wearing horizontal-striped turtlenecks tucked into high-waisted Mom Jeans with white cross-trainers. "We love your show!" said one. "We watch it all the time!" declared the other. I smiled and said thank you, because I'm a gentleman. But inside my little head, I screamed to the heavens with all my might: Why, God! Why do you hate me so much! Maybe I get a tad exasperated from time to time, but certainly you can understand why. I've spent the good part of a decade explaining, with as much patience as I could muster, why you shouldn't pair socks with sandals, why you might want to avoid tube tops after the age of forty, why elastic-waist pants are evil incarnate. But, evidently, not everyone is listening. Still, I continue on with my mission to make America a more beautiful place. I'm like that Native American dude from the commercial who cries when he sees people litter. Except, I'm not crying. It's more like I'm laughing at you. In fact, he's laughing at you too. We're having gin and tonics right now, and I was just telling him that your outfit was revolting. And you know what he said? "And how." And how! Couldn't you just die? I almost peed my pants a little. © 2010 Clinton Kelly