Gemma Correll : The Worrier's Guide to Life before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Worrier's Guide to Life:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Meh, at best By C. McPherson I had high hopes for this book as a fan of comics, dry humor, and self-deprecation. However, I found very little to even smile at in this book, never mind laugh at. If I had it to do over, I would pass on this one. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five Stars By S. Linds Perfect to give me a little inspiration every morning! 3 of 3 people found the following review helpful. Five Stars By Anneke The best book I've ever purchased!

If you're floundering in life, striking out in love, struggling to pay the rent, and worried about it all -- you're in luck! World Champion Worrier and Expert Insomniac Gemma Correll is here to assure you that it could be much, much worse. In her hugely popular comic drawings, Gemma Correll dispenses dubious advice and unreliable information on life as she sees it, including The Dystopian Zodiac, Reward Stickers for Grown-Ups, Palm Reading for Millennials, and a Map of the Introvert's Heart. For all you fellow agonizers, fretters, and nervous wrecks, this book is for you. Read it and weep...with laughter

"Feeling anxious? A bit panicky? Fear not — cartoonist and self-proclaimed World Champion Overthinker Gemma Correll is here to help you laugh about it." (National Public Radio)"A brief, fun tour of a talented artist's enjoyable works, perfect for a coffee table or gift for the millennial in your life." (The A.V. Club)"These comics are the perfect antidote for twentysomethings who take themselves too seriously." (Sarah Hunter, Booklist)#4 of the "20 Female Instagram Artists You Should Follow Immediately" (Madeline Buxton, Refinery29)"Dealing with a mental health condition is no laughing matter. But British illustrator Gemma Correll is channeling her depression and anxiety into her art—and the results are hilarious." (Elyse Wanshel, The Huffington Post)About the AuthorGemma Correll is a young English illustrator, cartoonist, and generally quite small person. She and her trusty pug sidekicks, Bella and Mr. Norman Pickles, will soon be leaving the land of their births for a new life in the very large country of America. Wish them luck!
