R. D. Rosen, Harry Prichett, Rob Battles : Throw the Damn Ball: Classic Poetry by Dogs before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Throw the Damn Ball: Classic Poetry by Dogs:

I will be giving these as Christmas gifts to dog-lover friends and family, to poetry lover friends and to friends who love a chuckle and a guffaw. The authors have written some hilarious verses, and the dogs featured are beyond adorable. My favorite canines are Banjo, Barky, Nancy, Fura and Ameer--dogs I happen to know through the grapevine of life. The poetry attributed to them fits perfectly--almost as if the authors were taking dictation directly from their doggie-thoughts. Additionally, the book is a beautiful example of graphic design, tastefully elegant, with a clever edge of irony. These dogs ain't such dogs as they think they are! They have been immortalized in image and in poetry. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Fun book for dog lovers By Jan D. Gift for my niece. She loves books and dogs so this hit right on point. She really enjoyed it. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. My dogs like it By AZDesertDrazil Read this to my kids (doggy type). They like being read to but too many of these are similar to each other so I only read a couple and go on to another book.

A hilarious collection of poetry by dogs- perfect for lovers of literature and pups alike "Dogs seldom make passes At dogs passing gasses." Are these the words of Dorothy Parker? Ogden Nash? Nope, the author is Sparky from Milton, Pennsylvania. Sparky, Snowy, Tucker, Louie, these canine laureates have written a volume of poetry displaying the brilliance and wit we've always suspected our dogs were hiding from us. They also, it turns out, revere the human geniuses who came before them, as you'll see with "There Is No Frigate Like A Pavement" - an homage to Emily Dickinson - and "Do Not Go Gentle." Yes, Dylan Thomas would love it.

About the Author R. D. Rosen is the Edgar Award-winning author of Strike Three You're Dead and other Harvey Blissberg mysteries, plus several nonfiction books. Harry Prichett has written and performed for the improv comedy group Chicago City Limits, and is the voice you often hear on television and radio commercials. Rob Battles, who has written and produced for public radio stations and National Public Radio, is a senior vice president for a large, forward-looking media company. Together, Rosen, Prichett and Battles wrote the bestselling Bad Dog, Bad Baby, Bad President, and (with Jim Edgar) Bad Cat.
