Jeremy could almost be a character study of our son...and our family! It's so hard to believe our 17 year old son is graduating HS and going off to college in 2014. We're experiencing the roller-coaster of emotions that go along with this exciting time in all our lives, and "Zits" has been the best therapy/prep for at least the last 6 years. I would liken this book series to our reading "What To Expect When You're Expecting" when we were newly pregnant. It was a very helpful guide for parenting, questions, and practical advice. When your little people are about 11-12+ years old, "Zits" is your next parenting go-to guide for all. You'll love, laugh, and cry your way through the next 6+ years together. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. A Rollicking Good Time By Sashmom In every single Zits book there is at least one page that has me laugh out loud. This book had way more than that Who couldn't use a good laugh eh? 5 of 5 people found the following review helpful. Extremely funny look at life with a teenager By Shevi I love Zits books, and my favorites are the treasuries that include extras, like commentary. This one doesn't have as much commentary as Sunday Brunch, which is my all-time favorite Zits collection. It's great, though, to see these newer strips. The characters are growing and changing, particularly Hector who gets an entirely new look.

Zits is the perfect comic portrayal of life, with an eye-rolling teenager and perplexed but connected parents. Sixteen-year-old Jeremy Duncan is a high school sophomore and an aspiring musician. He daydreams about the day when his band records its first monster hit single and he and his bandmates all pile into his van for their cross-country, sold-out concert tour. Between naps, study hall, and band practice, Jeremy still manages to find time to be the star of this hugely popular comic strip. Jeremy is a good kid. He is intelligent and kind, yet he still has the attitude that one would expect from a teenager. His unpredictable mood swings and monosyllabic answers to his parents' mild-mannered questions often leave them baffled and bemused. Zits was created in 1997 by Pulitzer Prize– and Reuben Award–winning editorial cartoonist Jim Borgman and Reuben Award–winning cartoonist/writer Jerry Scott. The creators, who are parents themselves, have a keen insight into the many physical and emotional changes that teens go through during adolescence, and they have the gift of addressing these common dilemmas with compassion and humor.

About the Author Jerry Scott is the co-creator of the award-winning comic strip Zits. He lives in central coastal California. Jerry's work on Baby Blues has delighted fans and wowed the cartooning world since he launched the strip with Rick Kirkman in 1990. Co-creator Jim Borgman and his wife are the proud parents of five children. He has also won a Reuben Award and a Pulitzer Prize. Both he and Jerry have LOTS of experience with teenagers.
